NEED HELP MAKING A DECISION ABOUT SELECTING DISTANCE LEARNING OR IN-PERSON LEARNING FOR YOUR STUDENT? PLEASE REVIEW THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION BEFORE MAKING A DECISION:

- All students are invited for In-Person Learning; however, Distance Learning is still an option. Students opting in to full-time distance education will be expected to meet the following expectations:
 - Students will be required to attend and have their cameras on for the full duration of real-time sessions during the school's instructional day. Students may use the blurred background function.
 - Kindergarten – 2ND grade will have a minimum of 60-90 minutes of real-time sessions daily.
 - 3RD – 5TH grade will have a minimum of 90-120 minutes of real-time sessions daily.
- Full-time distance education elementary students must have an adult at home readily available to support their learning.
- Students will be required to attend school face-to-face for designated activities and assessments. District transportation will not be provided for these activities.
- All full-time distance education requests are subject to approval by the school principal.
- Parents/guardians are asked to consider the following information when selecting full-time distance education:
 - Students may be required to remain in full-time distance education for the entire academic school year.
 - If a full-time distance education student begins to struggle, intervention meetings may be conducted with the student and parent/guardian, and the student may be required to attend school for face-to-face instruction.
 - Students participating in full-time distance education may be required to participate in curricular instructional activities at the school campus (i.e., tutoring, projects, and performances). Students will be required to attend school face-to-face for designated assessments. District transportation will not be provided for these activities.

- Students with an Individualized Education Program (IEP) may need to attend therapy and related services at the school.
 - Only students may participate in the real-time sessions. If a parent/guardian has a question or needs assistance, please email the teacher outside of class or contact the counselor to arrange a parent-teacher conference.
 - Based on teacher licensure requirements, classroom capacity, and students served through the different instructional models, there will be limitations for parents/guardians to change their student(s) to a different instructional model once selected.
 - A student participating in full-time distance education who qualifies for free and reduced lunch, may receive meals at the school at no cost. The student must eat their meals at the school during the school's designated meal serving times per the National School Lunch Program.
 - There may be unique situations at schools in which the number of students registering for full-time distance education and the allocated teacher units at a school will require students to register for full-time distance education at Nevada Learning Academy.
 - Parents/Guardians wanting an independently paced distance education program may register for Nevada Learning Academy.
 - Some courses/classes may not be offered through full-time distance education.
 - Successful candidates for full-time distance education have demonstrated positive attendance and grades during the previous quarter of school. All full-time distance education requests are subject to approval by the school principal.
